Instructions not to republish

Please do not republish or redistribute the information found on HousingEconomics.com without written consent from NAHB. NAHB does make an abundance of economic information freely available to all members and the public on www.nahb.org, but the detailed reports found on HousingEconomics.com are part of a subscription based service and are copyright protected content.

Digital Products Policy

Digital products are defined as electronic files, web pages, directories, and/or web site content subscriptions that are offered for sale and fulfilled on the www.nahb.org web site.

Content subscriptions purchased on www.nahb.org (HousingEconomics.com is part of the NAHB.org website) are valid for one year from the date of purchase. At the end of one year, access to the content subscription will be revoked and the product must be purchased again to continue access for another year. Note that content found within a content subscription is subject to change on a daily basis. NAHB recommends that any pages of interest found within the content subscription be downloaded and/or printed for future reference. NAHB cannot provide customers with expired content once it has been removed from the content subscription.

Cancellation Policy

Digital products cannot be cancelled. All digital products become immediately available upon credit card/payment confirmation. Links to digital products can be found in the customer's order record in My Purchases. There are no shipping and handling charges for digital products. Sales tax only applies to customer's whose credit card billing address is in the District of Columbia. Digital products may not be returned.
